President Says Tobacco Trust Is The Country's Worst Enemy.

Trenton, Ky., Sept. 9.—In a speech delivered here to-day by Congressman John W. Gaines, of Tennessee, before one thousand members of the Dark Tobacco Association, he declared that in a recent interview with the President, he had made the statement that the tobacco trust was the worst enemy to the country's interests of any public institution.

Continuing, Gaines said: "Secretary Wilson is the best friend the South has ever had in any Cabinet. He is doing more than any other man ever has done: the course which has been directed against him has not been deserved, because he is the friend of the farmers in this fight of the association against the tobacco trust."

"When I saw him on my recent visit to Washington, I discussed the situation with him in full. He suddenly turned to me and said: 'The conditions are deplorable, what can I do to help the farmers in this fight?' The matter of appointing a representative of the Agricultural Department came up later and the appointment of Joseph Kilborew, of Guthrie, was decided upon. Wilson declined to appoint an officer of the association on the grounds that they were all engaged in a good fight against the trust and it would not be wise to take them away from this work."

Something About Alfalfa.
Regarding the "Kentucky Alfalfa and Corn Special" train, which will be in Breckenridge county on September 29 and 30, mention of which is made elsewhere, and profitable cultivation of this crop in Kentucky, the Courier-Journal says:

"The train is being sent out as a kind of railroad school to educate the farmers at first hand of the value of alfalfa as a food crop and of the practicality of its being grown in Kentucky. Alfalfa has been shown to be one-half richer in protein than clover, and four cuttings of it each year can be had in this State. It is the best forage crop in the world. Horses, chickens, hogs and all kinds of live stock eat it with relish and thrive on it."

"From two and one-half to three tons of alfalfa can be realized from the first cutting, and from all the four cuttings six to eight tons per acre can be secured. An excellent poultry food is made by grinding alfalfa, and samples of this food are now being sent all over the country. Stock will walk over clover to get alfalfa. It is one of the best known fertilizers. If it is used, Kentucky will grow alfalfa in sufficient quantity. It will mean that this State can compete with the Western States in the making of beef, whereas in the past the farmers of this State have had to feed corn as against alfalfa, and competition was impossible."

Hensley Back at Post of Duty.

Persons who were in the city today from Stanley report that there will probably be more trouble there. Marshall W. Hensley, who shot the Sapp on last Saturday afternoon while resisting arrest, has returned to his position as railroad agent and is also filling his office and is determined to preserve order in town. John Lindner, who has already caused much commotion there is said to be on the war path and is making threats against the marshal. It is said that Saloonkeeper Breidenbach has refused to sell liquor to the Lindners, who are his brothers-in-law, but they go to Worthington station and get the liquor and then return to Stanley to work off its effects.—Friday's Owensboro Inquirer.

Thomas Cannon, one of the wealthiest citizens of the southern part of the county, died last Thursday at his home at McDaniel. He had been ill of dropsical trouble about two years.

Mr. Cannon was born in 1810. For many years he was prominently identified with the agricultural and business interests of his section of the county, and amassed a considerable fortune. He owned 1,500 acres of land and his estate is estimated to be worth $30,000. He was one of the county's best known and most up-to-date farmers and was very successful at this occupation.

Union Meetings at M. E. Church.

A union meeting of the members of the Baptist and Methodist churches was held at the Methodist church Sunday evening. Presbyterians also being present. Rev. J. T. Lewis, pastor of the Baptist church, at the request of Rev. P. L. King, pastor of the Methodist church, filled the pulpit. Rev. Lewis delivered an excellent sermon, which greatly impressed his congregation and was very favorably commented on by members of all the denominations represented. He spoke in an earnest, yet unassuming, manner and his important, sensible and helpful truths that sank deep into the hearts of his hearers. He took "Love," especially as applied by men to their fellow men, as his subject, and for his text the eighth verse of Romans, thirteen chapter. "Owe no man any thing, but to love one another."

He said that love is the greatest thing in the world and emphasized the importance of men dealing with one another from a standpoint of love, and as a second and very important duty, of being loving to themselves.

Rev. King occupied his pulpit Sunday morning. As stated elsewhere, he will preach his farewell sermon as pastor of the Methodist church on next Monday morning. Next Sunday evening a union meeting of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches will be held at the Methodist church and Rev. T. C. Kerr, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will, at the request of Rev. King, occupy the pulpit. Members of other churches and the public generally are cordially invited to attend this service.

Aside from being an appropriate observance of Rev. King's departure from Cloverport, these meetings tend to increase the strong fraternal and harmonious feeling existing between the denominations taking part.

Brooks Files Court-Clear.

Daniel Brooks, a Louisville stock commission merchant well known in this county, has filed a counterclaim against his wife, F. Pauline Brooks, who, as mentioned on another page, has brought suit for divorce. He denies the charges of cruelty and unfaithfulness, and not only denies that he was financially indebted to his wife but brings a counter claim for $1,000. Brooks says that he never saw his wife mistreated by anyone except her daughter, who is a divorced woman. Mrs. Brooks, he claims, insisted that this daughter live with them, and he consented on condition that her board should be paid. The daughter remained two years, and, according to Mr. Brooks, no board was forthcoming. In addition, he says, his wife removed all the furniture last month, including $800 which belonged to him, and that this brings his entire claim up to $1,000. As to the money he was alleged to have borrowed from the plaintiff, this, he says, has all been returned.

The answer does not ask that the defendant be granted a divorce, but merely postpones the monetary claim.

He is one of the county's best known and most promising young men.

Council Ticket in Field.

Though the election is nearly two months away, one ticket for city council, headed by J. G. Harris for mayor, is already in the field. The ticket, which was organized last week, is known as the Citizens' Ticket and is composed of the following gentlemen: C. B. Skillman, J. A. Barry, S. H. McCracken, L. T. Reid, J. M. Fitch and Jno. O'Connell. Its device will be the arm and hammer.

Three of the candidates for councilmen are Republicans and three Democrats, two reside in the East End, three in the West End and one on the schoolhouse hill, making the ticket as evenly divided in these two respects as possible.

Messrs. McCracken and Fitch are members of the present council, whose terms expire next January. Mr. Reid, who is serving the fourth and last year of his term as mayor, and Messrs. Henry Yeager, C. S. Lunn, J. W. Pate and J. H. Brown, the other members of the present council, do not care to make another race.

The city offices of marshal, clerk, attorney, treasurer, assessor, tax collector and lamplighter will be filled by appointment by the new council at its meeting the first Monday in January.

Henderson Route Improvements.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 11.—L. W. Botts has succeeded H. V. Sanders as treasurer of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad. Mr. Sanders resigned his position on account of ill health. Mr. Botts had been filling the place temporarily for ten months, and his name was the only one considered by the directors to fill the place. Mr. Botts is also vice president of the Columbia Finance and Trust company.

The officials of the Henderson route are planning heavy expenditures in various departments. Beginning on September 15 the company will replace the chair cars on all Evansville trains with new vestibular cars. The old chair cars to be replaced are to be reconstructed in the shops at Cloverport. They will be lengthened to the standard size and vestibules added.

Much delay is being experienced with the new bridge to span Salt river at West Point on account of the high water, but two crews are kept constantly at work. About half the river span of the bridge has been completed, and the approach on the west side finished. Several miles of track have been laid between Louisville and West Point and the company expects to be running trains into the Tenth street and Broadway station by January 1. A new station will be built at Owensboro.

The October "Smart Set."

William R. Lighton, the author of "When Cupid Came to Nine-Bar," the novelette which opens the October Smart Set, has written a story of Wyoming which is full of Western atmosphere and presents a life picture of the healthy, invigorating life of that section of our country. Steve Brainerd, the hero, will take his place beside the notable characters which writers like Bret Harte have given us. The story is a refreshing departure from the rapid literature of the day.

It is a splendid number, and no one should fail to read it.

DEATH OF WILLIAM H. CAIN.

Life Ends For Valuable Citizen Of Bewleyville at Old Age.

Bewleyville, Ky., Sept. 12.—(Special.)—William H. Cain was born in Bedford county, Va., May 2, 1822, and died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. W. W. Keith, in Bewleyville, September 5. He was sixteen years old when his father removed to Kentucky. He began business as a farmer for himself, when he was twenty-one. He was twice married. September 21, 1843, to Miss Mary Hardaway, who died October 29, 1850; and, March 11, 1852, to Miss Catherine Hardaway, sister of his former wife. Seven of his ten children are living, all near his old home except Mrs. L. S. Campbell, who lives near Russellville.

Mr. Cain's education was limited but, having been a constant reader, he was well informed in matters of church and state and current topics.

Mr. Cain was kind, consistent, upright and honorable as a citizen, and was a zealous temperance man. He was early converted to Christianity and it was his earnest endeavor throughout life to be prepared to meet a better life when this one ceased. No man was ever more faithful in the discharge of known duty. Four years ago Rev. Melville jubilee services in commemoration of the fact that he had been classed as a member of the Society unimpaired for fifty years. The event was one long to be remembered and the honor tendered to him was well deserved.

The funeral services were conducted at Bewleyville church, by his pastor, Rev. Hynes, who read for his text, 2nd Samuel 3:8, and then made an excellent comment on his life. A large crowd attended the funeral services and the burial at the old family graveyard near Mr. Blanton's. There he was laid to rest, among many whom he had loved in this life.

Help a Child to Find a Home.

The Kentucky Children's Home Society has grown to be one of the greatest child-saving agencies in America. The success of the work is due to the good people of our State who have opened their hearts and homes to the homeless, destitute children under our care.

Sixty or seventy bright, sweet children are sent to us each month and it is necessary in order to provide for neglected little ones to find good homes for the children now under our care.

Have you a child in your home? If you have, do you not think you could also assist in to raise and rear into good citizenship? Will you not help us by giving a home or finding a home for a child of any age from infancy to girls and boys of twelve years of age?

The Master said: "Inasmuch as Ye have done it to one of the least of these, Ye have done it unto me."

Fever Situation Improves.

New Orleans, Sept. 11.—The report of no deaths today, the first time since the announcement of the presence of the fever here on July 31, when contrasted with the record of 1878 presents quite a coincidence, because September 11, 1878, was the record day for deaths during that epidemic, ninety being reported.

Gibbons was bitten on the foot by a dog and the wound caused by the bite was such that he could not stand for any length of time on the injured foot. He did not hold another meeting or fill his regular appointment at Holt Sunday.

WILBUR HENSLEY GOES FREE.

Grand Jury Investigates His Case But Finds No Indictment.

The grand jury of Daviess county has allowed Wilbur W. Hensley, a former Harboursburg boy to go free, after having made an investigation of the killing of Joseph Sapp and having found no indictment against Hensley, who shot Sapp on September 2, while attempting to arrest him in his capacity as town marshal of Stanley.

The witnesses who appeared in the examining trial before Judge Triplett were examined before the grand jury and practically the same evidence was given which showed that Sapp was drunk and disorderly, that he had threatened to kill Marshal Hensley, that when the officer attempted to arrest him he resisted and fought and made a gesture as if to draw his pistol and that then the marshal shot and only once, putting his pistol back in his pocket after the first shot when he saw that Sapp drew no weapon. The indictment seems to be general with the county court, the grand jury and the people of the Stanley neighborhood that Marshal Hensley was justified in the killing.

The examining trial of Hensley was held before County Judge Triplett, who held the prisoner on his own recognizance for $100, pending an investigation by the grand jury. In doing this, Judge Triplett said:

"The examining court has not unlimited jurisdiction to determine the guilt or innocence. It is merely our duty to determine whether or not there is cause to hold for investigation. I am impressed with the argument of the counsel for immediate discharge, but in view of the gravity of the offense I shall not discharge him, but will do that which is practically the same thing. I shall hold him on his own recognizance in $100 until the grand jury shall have completed its investigation."

Attorney Jas. R. Skillman spoke for the accused at the examining trial. He argued that, according to the law of self-defense, Hensley was justified in shooting. He claimed he had a right to arrest Sapp because of several reasons, his being drunk, his swearing and using other bad language on the street. He also had the right to resist the assault made on him. He was bound to do something to clean out the road from the trouble, the toughest locality in Daviess county. "It does occur to me that an officer should be upheld when he goes to clean out a mess like that at Stanley and this fellow Sapp was one of the worst of the bad boys. The prisoner should be relieved of the further anxiety and worry by being dismissed. He was an officer of the law and did his duty about him."

To Disinfect School Desks

The school building has never been in a better condition than at present and the trustees are to be commended for the steps they have taken for the health of the pupils and the comfort and attractiveness of their surroundings.

Prospect For Diamonds In Elliott County Very Fine.

A recent Pittsburgh telegram says: "David Draper, a diamond expert of Johannesburg, South Africa, passed through here last night for Richmond, Va. He is due in London September 26. He has just returned from Elliott county, Ky., where he investigated and inspected land between here and Glasgow, Ky., and found the first diamond mine expert from South Africa to investigate the possibility to find diamonds in Kentucky."

"Mr. Draper in his final report said that if prospects appeared on the surface in South Africa as they do in Elliott county, Ky., hundreds of thousands of dollars would have been invested before this in prospecting. His reports show that garnets, ilmenite, olivine and mica exist in the deposits, the thick growth of vegetation would preclude the possibility of finding the gems unless they were systematically searched for."

"He calls attention to the fact that some of the Transvaal mines were only discovered after the lapse of years of prospecting although it was evident to mining experts that diamonds existed there. He says the total cost thoroughly to prospect the Kentucky property would aggregate $100,000. His report states that nowhere has he found as good indications of diamonds as in the Kentucky field."

"The promoters of the enterprise have 22,000 acres of land bought up surrounding the ground which will be opened to the owner's view in Pittsburg, and met Mr. Draper at the train last night."

READ THIS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 7th, 1901.

Dr. E. W. Hall, St. Louis, Mo.

Dear Sir: I suffered ten years with severe kidney and bladder troubles. Chas. at times was so bad that I was advised to try your Texas Wonder, and after using one-fourth of one bottle, which was a large bottle, I was never suffered since passing the same, three years ago. I have recommended it to many others, who reported themselves cured. I most heartily recommend it to all sufferers from kidney or bladder diseases.

May Not Be Able To Refuse.

The statement was accepted as delicate and delicate at that time there was no anticipation of those events which have come since, and which now bid fair to place the president in a position where a refusal of renomination will be difficult if not almost impossible. The question is whether out of the great enthusiasm throughout the country and a demand which may become almost unanimous,

Mr. Downs "Contributes" $5.40.

Mr. Chas. Downs, of Cloverport, was lodged in jail Sunday for drunkenness. That night he preached an excellent sermon through the bars, growing bolder in his eloquence, but the next morning Judge Hites took up a collection from the men from Cloverport contributed $5.40—Hancock Clarkon.

Trust Organ Admits It.

The Western Tobacco Trust, the alleged organ of the tobacco trust, clearly admits that the tobacco growers are strongly organizing and preparing for a big fight against the trust, in the following paragraph, which is from its issue last week:

"Largely attended and enthusiastic meetings of the tobacco growers are being held at county seats throughout Southern Kentucky for the purpose of organizing for the struggle with the tobacco trust. A meeting held at Edwille was addressed by former Congressman W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa, who made one of the strongest arguments ever heard in this section in behalf of the Farmers' Protective association. Hon. W. A. Bradley and John E. Grier, of Springfield, Tenn., are also attending and speaking at these meetings. Meetings have been held this week at Murray and Mayfield. Almost every county in this section now has an organization, and numbers of the best farmers, who have heretofore held aloof from the movement, are daily coming into it."

River Survey Progressing Well.

The United States Engineer Corps, under Captain Harry Burgess, will send out a surveying party Monday to the Ohio river from Rising Star, a point a fadina about ninety miles up the river, to Louisville. The party will be under the supervision of S. F. Crocinius, who has at present charge of the survey working from Louisville to Cairo.

The other surveying party is making good progress, and covering more ground each week. About forty-five are in the party, which is working with great accuracy. When both parties finish their work the Ohio will be mapped and surveyed from Pittsburgh to Cairo.

Kentucky Crop Report.

Last week's weather bureau crop report for the State of Kentucky was as follows:

"Corn.—Corn is now practically a safe crop of excellent quality and high yield. Early plantings are being cut or pulled for fodder and the late is ripening fast; the exception being in Grayson and Warren counties, where growth has necessitated its use for fodder to save it.

"Tobacco.—Tobacco matured rapidly during the week and much was cut and housed; the late tobacco was also helped by rain, but it was detrimental to leaf in the barn. The crop is reported up to the average in most localities, but there is also complaint of trouble from worms, unevenness in the size of plants, and some damage from houseburning.

"Forage.—Millet, peas and sorghum are good crops, and millet has been harvested in good condition. Pastures continue green over much of the state.

"Fruit.—Peaches have been unsatisfactory; the crop is light and mostly pitted. Apples are excellent in a few sections, but mostly imperfect and scarce in others; continued rotting and dropping are generally reported.

"Vegetables continue good in many sections, but some gardens are beginning to dry up. Sweet potatoes and melons made fine yields. Hemp is good and much of it cut.

"Plowing continues favorable for wheat and rye."

Given Up to Die.

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle was entirely cured." Sold by A. R. Fisher.

Work on Henderson Route Bridge.

(Canneton Telephone.) Contractor Henry Heim has completed the contract of building three stone abutments for the Henderson Route bridge across Salt River at West point, Ky., and has returned home.

The job took the labor of about twenty-five men for seven months. There are 1029 cubic yards of stone in the contract and the job is first-class one in every way. Mr. Heim received $5,000 for the job.

There remains only one pier to be completed and it is being built of concrete by a Louisville firm, after which it will be ready for the iron work. Efforts are being made to have this work completed by January 1 next.

Mr. Heim is now figuring on a bid for the stone work on the union depot at Owensboro, soon to be built. He has made himself "solid" with the Henderson Route people and hereafter will be employed most of his time in building stone culverts and bridge abutments along that popular line.

Temperature Below Normal.

Low temperatures, in many places far below the normal, prevailed all over the United States last week. In this section the mercury went as low as 35 degrees, which lacked only seven degrees of being low enough for the precipitation of frost, other atmospheric conditions being favorable.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes. The kidneys are your blood purifiers; they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work. Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel that he has heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping this impure, poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kimmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Remedy of Swamp-Root, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kimmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Don't make any mistake and remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kimmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

REV. P. L. KING TO LEAVE CLOVERPORT.

ANNOUNCES HE WILL GIVE UP THE PASTORATE OF METHODIST CHURCH. THREE YEARS' EXCELLENT WORK.

Rev. P. L. King has announced that he will preach his last sermon as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Cloverport, on next Sunday morning, and will give up the charge here, which he has held for three years. On September 27 he will attend the Louisville conference at Louisville, from whence, his friends here believe, he will be sent to a higher-salaried church, on recognition of his worth as a minister of energy and ability. Rev. King's announcement of his intention to leave Cloverport came in the nature of a surprise to the members of his congregation and it is with regret that they will give up. No division of the church work has prospered more in any three consecutive years than in those during which Rev. King has been pastor, and to him much of the credit is due.

When he took charge of the church in October, 1902, Cloverport was in the midst of a local option fight, in which he took a most active part and was one of the strongest and most fearless leaders. During his first pastorate year the new building, which replaced the old one that was burned on March 13, 1901, was dedicated and the church debt raised.

Rev. King's reports of collections, for all purposes, are by far the best of any three years since 1896. The collections of only one year have equaled those of any one of the three years and that was during Rev. Sigler's pastorate, which collections were used largely in the erection of the new church. The conference collections this year are larger, perhaps, than ever in the history of the church, and more than double those of many years.

It was during Rev. King's pastorate that the best revival in the church in the past eighteen years was held. This was the great meeting conducted last February and March by Evangelist J. T. Newman, during which there were many additions to the church. In continuing the good work that got its start then Rev. King has been very instrumental. The organization of the Cloverport chapter of the Epworth League, with a present membership of sixty-five, was an indirect result of the revival and his co-operation with the organization has lent much to its strength and influence. Not in years has the interest of the younger members of the church in its history been so great as at present, nor their number as large.

One of the most marked improvements in the progress of the church during the pastorate of Rev. King has been the increased attendance at the evening service, which has been much larger, for a like period, than at any time since Rev. Brandon was pastor. Some of the most scholarly, interesting and helpful sermons ever delivered here by a local minister have been preached by Rev. King and this has largely accounted for the increased attendance. The attendance at the Sunday school, which has an enrollment of 140, has also increased.

During part of his pastorate here Rev. King preached one Sunday in each month at Holt's Chapel, Holt. Rev. King has as high a regard for his congregation as they have for him and his work here, as is evidenced by the contents of his recent letter to the Central Methodist, which was published two weeks ago. To reprint the following sentences from the letter is not out of place: "Three pleasant and I trust, profitable years have been spent here. I regard Cloverport as one of the most desirable appointments in the conference. The people are loyal to the church and good to the preacher and his family. I do not know what I should have done the past three years, with a sick wife and three infant children, without the thoughtful kindness and Christian liberality of the good women of our church. Their goodness in anticipating the needs of little ones is unsurpassed in the experience of this preacher. May the blessings of a good God abide upon them. My wife is now greatly improved in health and we are all well and happy."

TEMPERANCE IN ENGLAND.

(From the Church Electric.) Brewers are just now much exercised in their minds over the great falling off in their returns. Attempts are of course being made to discount any suggestion that beer is ceasing to be the national beverage and that a wave of temperance is sweeping over the land. But we have no hesitation in saying that temperance reform is winning its way in England, and that the decline of the brewer is something more than a merely temporary depression. Considerations of health and economy appeal more powerfully than ever they did before to the popular mind, and are the brewer's most formidable opponents.

It is a remarkable sign of the spread of temperance principles that thorough councils in their representative capacity should be initiating methods of temperance reform. Some time ago the council of Woolwich took action in this direction, and now that of Chamberlain has unanimously decided to follow suit by issuing a placard of physical deterioration and alcoholism, signed by the Mayor and the public officer of health.

This placard points out in an emphatic manner the fact that the abuse of alcoholic stimulants is one of the most potent means of physical deterioration. It further states that alcoholic persons are especially liable to tuberculosis and all inflammatory disorders, and that the injury figures show a large and increasing number of admissions of both sexes due directly to drink. And it concludes with these striking words: "Alcoholism is the most terrible enemy to personal health, to family happiness and to national prosperity."

The Renewal a Strain.

Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with tens of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by strawberries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

AFTER COTTON CONSPIRATORS.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The President today designated Morgan H. Beach, until recently District Attorney of this city, to take charge of the cotton leakage conspiracy.

The material already in possession of the Government, it is claimed, is sufficient to insure additional indictments against the cotton conspirators. This will be the first work to be considered by Mr. Beach. It is known to be his desire to complete the list of indictments against former Associate Solicitor General, the Agricultural Department, and Moses Haas and Frederick A. Pookham, of New York, before any steps are taken on the indictments already obtained. Mr. Beach does not believe, however, that this work of securing additional indictments will be long or tedious, and he contemplates whipping the case of the Government into such shape that trials may begin at an early date.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1905.

The Kentucky state crop report gives the condition of corn as 101, wheat yield per acre 11 bu.

A home where there is cleanliness, sunshine and good temper is never bothered with mosquitoes.

The dove of peace could not do a greater work than to drop down on the politicians of Louisville.

The Missouri State crop report gives the corn crop as 255,000,000 bu., and indicates an increase in wheat acreage.

The Morning Oregonian estimates that the wheat crop of Oregon will be 12,400,000 bushels, Washington 32,890,000 and Idaho 4,800,000.

A Minneapolis miller has just received a Pacific coast inquiry as to the price for 10,000 tons of patent flour for China. This is equal to 100,000 barrels and there is a good prospect of landing the business.

The Wall Street Journal says the business horizon of the United States is practically cloudless. Nature has put in place the foundations for at least twelve months of good business, and nothing can prevent this from being done. For twelve months to come it is a case of "full time" and "full steam ahead" all around.

A prominent Democrat of Hancock county 'said to the NEWS the other day that "Dick" Owen would carry Hancock county by at least 100 majority. He said many of the leading Republicans in that county had declared for him and were doing all they could. This is certainly gratifying to Mr. Owen's friends in this, his old home county, and should be an incentive to them to go to work and help him carry this county. Dick Owen is a fair-minded, conscientious man and when he gets to the senate he will represent all the people, not Democrats alone but Republicans as well. He will not vote for any measure that will not be good for all the people. He's our country man and we would like to see him in the senate.

CHAS. BLANKFORD says he thinks he would like to go back to the old Democratic times when the tramps were abroad in the land and you could get all the help on the farm you wanted for mere board and lodging. Now, he says, you can't get help for love or money. He says he has to pay seven cents a shock for cutting corn when it used to cost him four and five cents, and he has to beg men to do it even at that price. Too many places are now open for labor, he says, and it is bearing down on the farmers harder than anybody. Of course he is joking about wanting to go back to those old times. He wouldn't go back or change his vote if he had to pay ten cents a shock for cutting corn. But it is true that the best paid people in this good land of ours are the wage earners and we are glad of it.

Says the Youth's Companion: "Does village improvement pay? Those who doubt it may find something suggestive in the conclusion of a man who is looking for a home in a New England village accessible from Boston. In his search he visited one town to which he had been recommended. He found the railway station shabby, the common, in sight from the station, covered with long grass, and weeds growing along the sidewalks. The whole place had a bedraggled and neglected air. The man decided at once that he did not care to buy property or to live among people apparently so indifferent to appearances as those who controlled affairs in that town." What is true of a New England village is true of towns in Kentucky. Nothing impresses a stranger so much on entering a town as to see the railroad station clean and nicely kept, the streets free from weeds and nicely kept lawns. Cloverport shows up well along this line. There are not many towns that present a better appearance in its homes and its streets. A stranger said to the NEWS the other day: "You have one of the cleanest, nicest towns that I go to."

HENRY MOORMAN seems to be a very busy young man in his campaign. He has two beautiful young ladies in his office addressing envelopes to all the 5,000 voters in the county. He says it costs money to do this but he has faith in printer's ink and believes it will pay. He has "cut out" the best medium in Breckenridge county for reaching the people and that is the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS. Mr. Cortelyou's great hit in the last Presidential campaign was the use of both Democratic and Republican papers for his announcements in reaching the people. All the leading papers of the country carried paid advertisements, setting forth the doctrines and policies of the Republican nominee. And he said he got better results from this form of advertising than from any other. We admire Mr. Moorman's enterprise. He is a young man of more than ordinary ability. He has ideas of his own and he is not afraid to let the people know his position and what he will do if elected to the office of County Judge, but we don't see how he can afford to leave out of his list so good a medium for reaching the people as the BRECKENRIDGE NEWS. It costs something to advertise in the NEWS but it pays.

F. C. CART, formerly of Union Star, sends $1.00 for a year's subscription to the NEWS. He is now at Beattyville, Ky., working for the Cincinnati Cooperation Company and wants to hear from his old home. Mr. Cart has been working for this company for sixteen years, a record that any young man can be proud of. This company don't keep a man for this length of time unless he is worthy. Another thing that shows that Mr. Cart is made of the right stuff, is the fact that he don't forget his old home and his home paper. He still has a place in his heart for the old home, where he was born and reared. It may be ever so humble and far below what he enjoys elsewhere, but there is something commendable in a man desiring to keep in touch with the scenes of his childhood. There's the old, open fire-place with its big log fire, the old spring, and the old cow lot, where he once roped off the calf, while his mother milked the cow, and the old wood pile, where he picked up chips and carried in the wood, —these can never be forgotten. And if he can't get back to these old scenes the next best thing and the nearest to it, is to subscribe for his old home paper. Frank Cart is a boy after our own heart and long may he live and prosper.

Women Not Built That Way.

(Lancaster (Pa.) Examiner.)
A loafer on the street whose wife was probably at home getting out a neighbor's washing to make money to buy the children shoes, asked a busy man the other day if he ever saw a baldheaded woman.
"No, I never did," replied the busy man. "And never saw a woman waiting with a cigar in her teeth and running into every saloon she saw. Neither did I ever see a woman sitting all day at the street corner on a dry goose box telling people how the secretary of the treasury should run the national finances. I have never seen a woman go fishing with a bottle in her pocket, sit on the bank all day and go home drunk at night. Nor have I ever seen a woman yank off her coat and say she could lick any man in town. God bless 'em, the women are not built that way."

Million And A Half Cars Required to Move Crops.

A Chicago Telegram says: "Measuring the prosperity of the American farmer this year in units of freight cars, railroad statisticians have figured out that the grain traffic for this crop year will aggregate 1,400,000 car loads. If all this grain could be marketed simultaneously and hauled in a single solid train of freight cars, the train would be 11,901 miles long exclusive of the locomotives that would be necessary to move it.

"Dividing this huge train into smaller ones of forty cars each, there would be required 37,500 locomotives, or 355 miles of draft machinery. Adding this 355 to the 11,901 miles of cars, there is a total of 35,856 miles. To hold the cars and engines it would require nearly every foot of four tracks extending from New York to San Francisco. The necessary single track would measure half the circumference of the globe.

"Impressive as these figures are, they do not begin to tell the vastness of the wealth which the American farmer has taken from his soil in corn, oats, wheat, barley and rye in the year 1905.

"The railroad men's estimates are confined to the grain which will be moved to market centers on the steam roads. Probably not over one-third of the grain produced will ever see a freight car. The other two-thirds will be hauled to local mills in wagons, or will be consumed by live stock on the farms. To hold the entire crop alone would call for a train and engines 21,000 miles in length, the equivalent of six golden zones reaching from Hell Gate to the Golden Gate.

Farmers Don't Have to Rush Crops.

"In this story of agricultural treasure lies the reason for the unparalleled preparations of the Western farmers for traffic this season. If the farmer were not already well supplied with ready money and were forced to rush his grain to market, as he has done in past years, it is reasonable to suppose the railroads would be utterly swamped with grain traffic."

Are You Engaged.

Engaged people should remember, that after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown of Bennington, N. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Short & Haynes, druggists, sell and guarantee them, at 50c a bottle.

Mrs. F. L. Brooks Sues Divorce.

Relative to the divorce suit brought by Fannie L. Brooks against Daniel Brooks, the Louisville live stock commission merchant who is well known in Breckenridge county, last Wednesday's Courier-Journal contained the following:

"Fannie L. Brooks sued Daniel Brooks for divorce from bed and board, $75 which he claims she loaned her husband, and for reasonable alimony. The defendant is of Daniel Brooks & Company, cattle commission dealers at the Central Stock Yards. They were married June 20, 1902 and the plaintiff charges cruelty and infidelity. She says that she has been forced to leave the defendant's home on account of humiliation and ill treatment. The plaintiff's name was Fannie L. Wilson before her marriage, and she says that she formerly earned a good living for herself by keeping a large boarding house. On November 6, 1904, she says that she loaned the defendant $700 and just after her marriage she loaned him $100, of which he has only paid her $75. She says she was persuaded by the defendant to give up her business to marry him."

Men's Fashions For Next Year.

Green socks and loud plaid summer shirts—these are fashion's decrees for men next year.

The arbiters of style decide a year ahead what shall be worn, and most Cincinnati merchants have already given their orders. The mild and modest colors—dove, gray, tan and drab—that have been so prevalent in men's shirts this year, will give way to one of the most radical changes ever known in shirt styles. From one extreme to the other is fashion's decree.

The small figures of this year will also be behind the times. Everything in shirts will run to plaid—the larger and louder the more fashionable.

In socks, all shades and varieties of green will be the real, proper color. These greens will range all the way from the subdued olive to the most vivid grass color.

Nor is it necessary for the sock to be pure green to be fashionable. A suggestion of green will be sufficient, just so there is some of that present—even the faintest tinge. And the sock of next year will not be plaid, like the shirt. Data and figures of that sort will be largely used.

The lace sock, which was but little used this summer, will be almost entirely unknown next year.

Frog Cure for Typhoid Fever.

Newton Correspondence, Charlotte News. Your correspondent, like other people, lives and learns. He discovered yesterday that a toad applied to the foot of a fever patient, and kept there, would certainly cure the patient. It may be that the same is a well known remedy, known of old, but it is new here. A young man in this county has been very low with typhoid fever for several weeks; so ill, in fact, that the physicians gave him up to die. Another young man once suffered with typhoid and took the frog treatment and was cured, and as the treatment was applied to the patient mentioned, with gratifying results. The young man is reported as convalescing. The toads, the story runs, turn green and die, having drawn the fever from the patient. It seems to be an excellent remedy, but it is tough on the frog.

The Floral Hall and the fruit, melon and poultry departments are excellent. Thursday is Louisville day and an immense crowd is expected.

THE CROP REPORTS.
Up-To-Date Farming.

The Department of Agriculture is still making crop reports, and, under pressure, it is remaking some of them. The tobacco report for June showed a large increase in the acreage over that of the preceding year in the Burley district of Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and West Virginia, and in the dark district of Kentucky and Tennessee. Against this the organized planters protested, and presented such proofs as to compel the Department to reconsider its figures. About July 20 a special report was issued, with a confession of "errors" in the former report, and making the acreage much smaller than the previous report had made it.

It will be observed that the territory covered is the states where the tobacco growers are best organized, and where a fierce fight is raging between them and the tobacco trust. Present prices, of course, in the speculative market, the market of the trust, is regulated by the prospect of the crop of 1905. It is easy to see that a Department report of an increased acreage would indicate an increased 1905 crop, and the strongest possible factor in the reduction of price, and therefore directly and powerfully in the interest of the tobacco trust. If the report were true, and there actually was an increased acreage, the Department would be no more to blame for its being in the interest of the trust than would the camera be to blame for showing a wart on the nose of a picture when the wart was actually on the nose of the subject.

But if it turns out that the report was not true, that it was actually FALSE IN THE INTEREST OF THE TRUST, and the Department itself, now confesses that it was by issuing another and a different report, the growers have a right to infer that the "errors" may have been accidental ones.

But let us do the Department justice; or, rather, let us be fair with the Department. The tobacco trust is a powerful combination. It can correspond with people just as easily as can the Department of Agriculture, and it is not at all beyond the possibilities for it to get the addresses of the tobacco reporters, and then it is easy for it to make their report of acreage large. Many pretexts could be given why they should do that, and even "inducements" might be held out to them. In such a case as that, by no means an impossible one, the Department would not be to blame, but the crop reporting system would, and preliminary or problematic reports should be entirely abandoned as unworthy of the government and harmful to the farmers. Of course the exaggerated June report caused a fall in the price of tobacco that would not have occurred but for those "errors," and every pound of tobacco that sold at the reduction, took just that much from the farmers and gave it to the trust.

To Make Cement Next Month.

Alonso Fallon was at home from West Point several days the past week. Mr. Fallon is carpentering at the portland cement plant two and a half miles east of West Point. He says that the plant is expected to be in operation about the middle of October, and that about 200 men will be employed. The clay to be used in the manufacture of the cement will be mined at the plant but the stone will be secured from a point below Brandenburg, where between $200,000 and $300,000 has been spent, says Mr. Fallon, on dwellings for the employees and machinery for getting out the stone. The company has its own towboat and barges with which to transport the stone from the quarry to the plant.

The company operating the plant is known as the Kosmos Portland Cement Co. A week ago it went into the hands of the portland cement combine. About a million dollars has been expended in erecting the plant. The tract of land on which are the clay deposits is 800 acres in area and considered the most valuable of the kind in the country. Eugene and Fozzo Kingstary, Irvin O'Brien and Wm. Carter are other Cloverport carpenters employed at the plant.

The first half bottle relieved me and four bottles have cured me of this terrible disease. Before I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure I had to make water about every fifteen minutes, day and night, had passed a brick-dust substance, and sometimes a stony substance. I believe I would have died if I had not taken Foley's Kidney Cure." Sold by A. R. Fisher.

AMERICAN SILK-GOWNS.

THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE HAS INTERESTED HERSELF IN FOSTERING SILK WORM CULTURE.

Secretary Wilson Believes that Many Portions of the Country Well Adapted to the Industry. Department Will Furnish the Eggs and Mulberry Trees Free.

The Japanese have a class of laborers who work for their board and keep alone. All they want is a place to live and plenty of food in the shape of leaves from a particular kind of tree, and they are willing to turn millions of dollars into the pockets of their employers. In fact, Japan sent to the United States over $22,000,000 worth of their products during the last year, and they never received one cent of this vast sum. France, Italy, China and various other countries, too, have laborers of this kind, but in the hor for the samples she recently sent him.

Life History of a Silk Worm.

The various stages in the life of a silk worm are interesting. First, we have the tiny eggs which hatch into the caterpillar or larva. This larva, when hatched, upon coming into contact with the air, increased in volume larger than it had in the egg, and it quickly begins to gnaw the under surface of the mulberry leaf. It eats day and night, at all hours, except when asleep, and in about thirty days grows 14,000 times larger than it was at birth. As it grows it molts its skin probably four or five times. The most interesting period in its career is when the worm reaches an age of 20 or 21 days, when its appetite all at once ceases, its size diminishes, and its general appearance is sickly. Very soon, however, it begins to move about, lifts up its head, and turns in every direction, seeking a place in which to spin a net to hold the cocoon which is to be spun. For sometime, through the veil which very soon is to surround it, the diligent larva, with its back turned outward, may be seen

The Poor Worm Must Die.

However, in the silk worm culture, where the cocoons are gathered for their silk alone, it is necessary to kill the worm before it breaks the tiny threads. This is done quite quickly, however, by either the use of hot moist air or steam, or the modern painless method of destructive gases. The methods of reeling the silk from the cocoons vary according to the country where the industry thrives.

The history of silk culture in the United States dates far back to the days of the early colonists of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, while it was introduced in New England about the year 1890. In 1901, Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, after a visit to the South investigating agricultural conditions and possibilities, came to the conclusion that something should be done to ameliorate the condition of the extremely poor people of that section. He was particularly the colored race. Silk culture was among the ideas which suggested themselves to him, and his interest in that line led to an appropriation by Congress of $10,000 to continue the investigations of the subject. Congress during its session of 1902-1903 repeated the appropriation, and additional appropriations have been since made.

Good Outlook for New Industry.

It is believed that there are many portions of the United States well adapted to silk raising, many places which might well become silk centers, where labor can be employed practically at rates comparable to those of Southern Europe. The establishment of a silk mill in such a location is believed feasible by the Department officials, and can be made to pay. Foreign capital is becoming interested in the subject, the proprietors of a large estate in Italy especially giving the matter careful consideration. What the success of silk culture would mean in the United States might well be indicated when it is learned that nearly $100,000,000 was sent out of this country to be expended in the purchase of both raw silk and the manufactured article.

Carnegie Did Not Say It.

"I never said," declares Andrew Carnegie, in an interview, "that to live rich is to die disgraced." George Washington did not live to repudiate the little hatchet. William Tell passed to his rest with no opportunity to turn from the mythical apple the arrow that was to go on saving Switzerland for ages. Jefferson did not ride on horseback to the Capitol to take the inaugural oath. Mr. Carnegie, living and able, meets common report before it has hardened into tradition and declares that the facts are otherwise. Yet his advantage over the

MRS. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
In Gown Made of American Silk Gown.

United States, where the pay for labor is the highest in the world, the possibilities for employment of this class of help are just as great as in the countries where it flourishes. The question arises at once, of a sort of an industry is this which employs the time and services of its help and then pays them nothing?

Mrs. Roosevelt's Helping Hand.

These "swilling workers" are nothing more than the lowly silk worm, living on the leaf of the mulberry, and then diligently spinning the glistening strands of silver into an egg-shaped form that the keeper may reap the reward, and the president's wife has made a compact with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to foster their growth in the United States. Mrs. Roosevelt takes a deep interest in the question of American silk growing, and believes that there is in the industry much hope for the farmers' wives and other women who need an income from work at home. Our first lady of the land, by the way, has the rare attribute of much modesty, combined with great generosity, and except to her close circle of friends has nothing to say about her many philanthropies, mostly directed toward the advancement of women's interests.

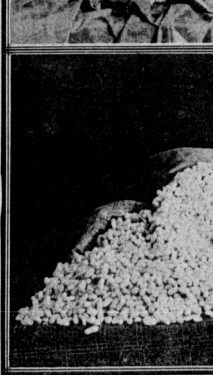

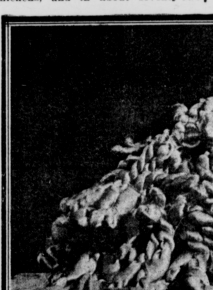

As to silk growing, Mrs. Roosevelt became interested in it something over a year ago, securing Secretary Wilson's powerful support; she stands sponsor for what promises to become a very considerable American industry. At the last Inauguration she wore a magnificent silk gown, made of American silk and worn on American looms.

Money in Raising Cocoons.

The silk worm thrives most any place where mulberry trees will grow. The raising of it, according to Fanny Brigham, requires only 65 days a year. Forty thousand worms hatch from a single ounce of eggs, and their cocoons when dried weigh about 80 pounds, worth on an average a dollar a pound.

It is Mrs. Roosevelt's idea that silk worm culture in the United States will be conducted principally by the farmers' wives and daughters, as it is in Europe. Secretary Wilson is convinced that there is a good profit in the industry, and he will send to anybody, free of charge, all the mulberry cuttings or seedlings required to start a silk worm growing. It takes about three years, with good care, to get the mulberry trees ready for cropping, and the Department will send the beginner all the eggs which the grove will feed. The silk raiser is, therefore, really under no money expense for starting the project, his share being only a little patience and industry. A shining example noted is Miss Ethel Pritchett, of Albany, Indiana, who is sixteen years old, and who has produced silk cocoons from Italian eggs finer than anything shown by Italy. Secretary Wilson highly praised completing its task. It is calculated that with its head alone the silk worm makes 40 movements every minute, describing arcs of circles, crossed in the form of the figure 8. Meanwhile the web grows closer and the veil thickens, and in about seventy-two heroes of history is a doubtful one. Protesting not too much, says the N. Y. World, the ironmaster protests, probably too late. The public will believe the deal and cling, nevertheless, to the ear-tickling phrase.

ECHOES OF PERRY'S FIGHT.

SHIPS SUNK BY AMERICAN FORCES RECENTLY DISCOVERED.

They Will Be Raised from Beds of Mud and Preserved as Records of War of 1812.

Following Commodore Perry's thrashing of the British fleet in his great Lake Erie fight, three of the British war boats were sunk in the Thames River, near Lake St. Clair. The question has arisen to whom do these vessels belong? After lying forgotten, covered with mud and water, for nearly a century, they have been discovered, and it is proposed to raise them. Over this, and their removal to Detroit, an international controversy is threatened.

These ships were a part of the fleet which resisted Commodore Perry at Put-in-Bay. At that time the whole northwestern country, including Detroit, had fallen into British hands. After Perry's crushing defeat, the battered remnant of the British fleet slipped away to Detroit, taking the British General Prevost aboard, and with arms, ammunition, government papers and other plunder from Detroit, made speed to Lake St. Clair. The little fleet of four took refuge on the Thames, and in the famous hand and naval battle which followed, the ships were all sunk. Tecumseh, the Indian chief, who was allied with the British, later committed suicide.

Gunboats Recently Discovered. These vessels have remained forgotten until recently, when unusually low water in the Thames revealed one of them. A plan was originated to recover them and present them to Detroit as memorials. Divers and experts have been at work, and have located three of the vessels at points one, two and six miles from Chatham. The ships are nearly covered with sand and coral.

In the one most exposed the hull was found to contain boxes and barrels of cannon balls and other war stores. Further search is expected to bring to light chests of silver and other valuables which the rebels took were taken on to the boats.

Canadian newspapers are vigorously protesting against the American seizure of these ancient relics, but it is stated that as the vessels are now private property, the explorers will be able to effect a bargain whereby they can obtain undisputed possession.

Mr. Hitchcock, first assistant postmaster-general, is expected to engage in the work of erecting the monument. Mr. Hitchcock went with him as his principal assistant, his uncompleted duties, however, still following him as they had previously and were not even completed upon his appointment to the post office department. It is doubtful if he has yet caught up with important lines of statistical work which he undertook to do prior to accepting his present appointment.

Mr. Hitchcock is very properly described in a current number of "The World-Telegram," as "the man with a pull," as his remarkable rise in the service of the government has been the result of ability unaided by political influence. His qualifications are perhaps most correctly summed up in the words of Secretary Wilson, who, in expressing regrets at his loss to the Department of Agriculture, said:

"He has industry, application and intelligence. As a reorganizer, clerk, plan maker, tell them what to do and how to do it, and get the best out of them. He has been a great help not a big crowd—that make themselves indispensable. The government can't go along without men like Mr. Hitchcock."

Zebrus. "What is algebra?" asked the teacher. "It's a white mule covered with black stripes. I saw one at the circus."

To Cast the Largest Bell in the World.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic a plan was presented by Col. Frank Hume, an officer who served with distinction in the army of the Confederacy, which if carried out, would mean that the largest bell ever cast will be hung in the Arlington cemetery, the former home of Robert E. Lee, overlooking Washington and the wide sweep of the Potomac River, and where are also buried some of our Confederate dead. It is Col. Hume's idea that this bell should be tolled during the funeral rites of the military heroes of the country when they are buried within these historic grounds.

Mr. Hume unfolded his plan to the Grand Army veterans, his purpose being to have the bell cast from a large number of old cannons now stored at the Government arsenal at Watervliet and other points. The president of one of the largest bell foundries in the country, who was communicated with, stated that the idea was a feasible one, but that the cost of the undertaking would be large. The belief is that the funds, however great they may be, will be raised, not only through contributions by the G. A. R. veterans, but by those who wore the gray.

A MAN WITHOUT A PULL.

Rapid Rise of Frank H. Hitchcock—Now First Assistant Postmaster General.

Several accounts have appeared in the papers and magazines descriptive of the rapid rise of First Assistant Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock, starting with a subordinate clerkship in the Department of Agriculture some 15 years ago where his duties consisted mainly in labeling and storing away the skins and skulls of mice, rats, and other mammals collected by the animal and bird division of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Hitchcock has been advanced rapidly to the head and directing force of first one and then another separate branch of the government, the last appointment being to the Post Office Department and later incidentally to membership in the Keap investigating committee to which was referred the important duty of investigating the Government Printing Office and which will further look into the question of duplication of work by the various bureaus and branches of the government at Washington.

While these advances have been gratifying to Mr. Hitchcock's friends and doubtless to himself, they have earned severe extra work. When he left the department of Agriculture to become chief clerk of the Department of Commerce and Labor he had several uncompleted publications of all his former department which occupied the Secretary Cartwright's resignation from the Department of Commerce and Labor to engage in the work of electing Mr. Roosevelt. Mr. Hitchcock went with him as his principal assistant, his uncompleted duties, however, still following him as they had previously and were not even completed upon his appointment to the post office department. It is doubtful if he has yet caught up with important lines of statistical work which he undertook to do prior to accepting his present appointment.

Mr. Hitchcock is very properly described in a current number of "The World-Telegram," as "the man with a pull," as his remarkable rise in the service of the government has been the result of ability unaided by political influence. His qualifications are perhaps most correctly summed up in the words of Secretary Wilson, who, in expressing regrets at his loss to the Department of Agriculture, said:

"He has industry, application and intelligence. As a reorganizer, clerk, plan maker, tell them what to do and how to do it, and get the best out of them. He has been a great help not a big crowd—that make themselves indispensable. The government can't go along without men like Mr. Hitchcock."

ANTI-PASS SENTIMENT.

IT IS GROWING IN CONGRESS AS WELL AS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

Many Legislators Have Already Set Their Faces Against the Acceptance of Railroad and Telegraphic Favors.

When Congress convened last fall it met in extra session upon the call of the President, and this session continued over into the regular session, which met December 5th. There was no interval between the two sessions. It was thus apparent that there could have been no traveling back and forth, no returning of the Members of Congress to their homes following the special session and coming on to Congress again for the regular session; yet the House of Representatives by a large majority passed a resolution voting themselves extra mileage for this extra session, amounting to nearly $200,000—a mileage grab for imaginary travel.

Fortunately for the honor of Congress, the Senate refused to even consider the question. But the incident brought out the fact that the majority of the Members of Congress, including some of our most renowned legislators, and including nearly all the Representatives who voted for this indefensible grab at graft, habitually travel on free railroad passes. Many of them not only secure free passes from the railroads but Pullman passes as well and also free meal privileges on dining cars.

Anti-Pass Cranks Will Soon Be Common.

There have been several men in Congress during recent years, sometimes perhaps with too much ostentation, refused railroad passes, and they will have been the subject of much scorn and derision among the anti-pass cranks. A contemporary remarks, however, in connection with the coming of Congress, that Governor La Follette, of Wisconsin, and one or two others who have "reform" ideas, that it is recorded in charming verse, about an old-fashioned preacher of the gospel in an English note that "those who came to scoff remained to pray," and among the numerous political possibilities of the not far off future, including a change of heart in many Congressmen who have hitherto laughed to scorn attempts to prohibit them from asking or accepting such railroad favors—amounting in fact to nothing more nor less than so much cash.

It is a promising sign that a number of national legislators of their own volition have effected this reform, wisely seeing that consistency demands it and likewise noting the popular feeling throughout the country against the practice.

It is a fair sized business in itself which provides the issuance of railroad and telegraphic "courtesies" to legislators. The practice is, of course, not confined to Congress, but occurs in every state legislature, to say nothing of other public officials.

LARGE CROPS AND CHEAPER RATES.

The farmers of the Northwest are jubilant not only over their large crops but the reduction of the transportation charges. The reduction of grain rates, according to a St. Paul dispatch, ranges from five to five hundred pounds from the most distant points, to a half cent from points nearest St. Paul and the rate of navigation on the Great Lakes. These rates are going into operation over two transcontinental railroads and it is expected to be met by all other roads doing business in the same territory and tributary to it. With the reduction of the western wheat crop of two hundred or so million bushels, the aggregate of this in favor of the farmer's cause is a large one. There can be no increase of rates made elsewhere, it is stated, to offset the reduction of the interests of the railroads. The reduction is looked upon as one of the evolutions in transportation.

New Farm Plants

Work of the United States Department of Agriculture.

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL.

A feature of the work of the Department of Agriculture which has attracted enormous prominence is the work of foreign agricultural exploration and the introduction of new and rare seeds and plants.

American agriculture is a comparatively new thing. Our climatic and soil conditions are largely different from those of old countries whence our fathers came, and the bulk of our agricultural products have been introduced from abroad. Because our fathers did it before us, it is a sufficient excuse for the majority of men to go ahead planting and cultivating in the same old way, but as a matter of fact the original producers of any of our common crops, a hundred or two hundred years ago, may have started wrong or have started in some particular locality with some particular crop not very well adapted to that section. For two hundred years our ancestors may have been making a living by growing that crop, and yet it may be that in some section of France, or perhaps Turkey, where the soil and climate exactly corresponds, a particular plant is being grown today which is far superior as a money producer.

This is not a mere theory, for every little while some agricultural explorer of the Department sends in a new variety, or perhaps merely a new variety of some common grain, for instance, which upon trial proves to be a much heavier and better yielding than the kind that our farmers have been growing since the Indians occupied the land.

Secretary Wilson takes much stock in his agricultural explorations, and has some energetic young men who are both botanists and linguists and have become almost as familiar with the agricultural productions of some little known and difficult to reach corners of the globe as they are with the farms of the United States. The writer is indebted to David C. Whitman, an intensely interesting talk on foreign have in mind, because we have only a very small supply of the new seed for trial, and not enough this year for distribution, but our agents have tried it in various states, and in every instance I think, where the experiment was intelligently made, the yield of the new variety was very much larger."

The Dates of Persia.

Mr. Fairchild has made plant explorations through many of the most interesting countries of the globe—Peru, where the Incas once practiced agriculture and irrigation on a splendid scale; Chili, a temperate country, where many plants were found suitable for our conditions; China, India, Ceylon, and numerous others. At the last place, near Bagdad, are found the famous date groves of the land of Babylon, where are produced probably three-fourths of all the dates of commerce. These vast date forests extend for a distance of seventy miles up and down the Tigris. Many fine date sucklings were obtained by Mr. Fairchild and shipped to the United States, and are now growing in Arizona, and some date the great Colorado river of our Southwest, where the conditions are especially favorable for date growing, may not yet prove all the dates which America uses, but export this wholesome fruit. Dates picked, packed and shipped by American methods will bring a higher price than the imported products, which, if the history of their packing were known, might not be eaten with such avidity by the fastidious. The saccharine of the date itself, or candies the fruit, and some of the trees which have already fruited in Arizona and California have yielded very fancy and fine dates. For a long time to come, all of the dates produced in the United States will come from the Tigris and North Africa, trees imported through the Department, and eventually the date suckers will command fancy prices.

third of the United States. Herein lies importance of this work. The finding of Japanese bamboo was no discovery; the importance lies in finding that they will thrive in our climate. Not only are they the most ornamental plant in the world, but they are probably the most useful wood in Japan, not only for the making of fancy furniture and knock-knocks, but for almost every use. "Tell me what you can use wood for," said Mr. Fairchild, "and I will tell you what use the Japanese can make of bamboo."

Better Than the Congressional Free Seed Force.

Dozens of other extremely interesting and promising plants were found, quantities purchased and sent home for tests. The number of these discoveries and introductions is so great, and such an exhaustive test is in each case made by the Department before anything is recommended for introduction, that it is practically useless for farmers or fruit growers to write the Department for samples of the strange and interesting things which its agricultural explorers have secured, and which are described from time to time in the magazines. Until any product has been tested and is determined to be practicable for growth in the United States, it is not possible to secure any seeds or specimens. In fact, the Department has none. Those that are sent in are immediately distributed among the Government experiment stations and to a few practical growers who are especially able to properly attend to the experiments under the direction of the Department. However, the possibilities of these tests are very great, and Congress would be well warranted in diverting some of the immense annual appropriation for "free seeds" into this channel of introducing to American farmers something which may prove of real and national benefit.

No Resignation for Secretary Wilson.

There are many good and sufficient reasons why Secretary Wilson whom the sensationalists have indirectly if not directly held accountable for the cotton scandal in his Department, will not resign. Whether or not Mr. Wilson is indirectly responsible for the criminal doings of trusted employees, he is the man directly responsible for a most wonderful development and evolution in the Department of Agriculture. And a man who can revolutionize the agriculture in an agricultural nation in a space of eight years and with all win the confidence of the farmers generally can not be spared.

plants. Mr. Fairchild speaks five or six different languages and knows pretty nearly every plant that grows. He is one of Secretary Wilson's "bright young men," and he is organized and in charge of the section of Plant and Seed Production, at present a modest branch of the Department, but one which is destined, in his judgment, to become one of its most important bureaus. This division already has some ten thousand plants new to America, which are being grown and tested all over the country.

Seedless Grapes, Matting Barley and Luxuriant Hops.

On a tour of investigation through Europe, Mr. Fairchild secured many important fruits and vegetables. The Sultanian seedless grape was sent in from Italy. The Husco seedless raisin grape was another find. The best matting barley in the world was found growing at an old town in Moravia. Introduced under the name of Italian barley, it has already proved of value to those regions where it has been grown, especially on the Pacific coast. It is not only earlier, but heavier yielding than other barleys; and if it is found that it can be generally substituted for the barleys now grown, its increased yield of from one to two and a half bushels per acre will add enormously to the aggregate output. A study of the hop regions of Europe disclosed the fact that the American hop is far inferior in quality to the best European varieties. The importation of young plants for the purpose of producing better American hops is a result of this discovery.

Bamboo Will Thrive in U. S.

The Jordan almond, the finest variety in the world, was found growing in Spain, and at once recognized as superior to the almonds produced in the United States, so a supply was immediately secured and shipped. A discovery which Mr. Fairchild thinks of great importance are the hardy bamboos of Japan. These are now being tested in California and the Southern States. Mr. Fairchild thinks they will thrive throughout the southern

A Peculiar Horse. The excellence of the English Colonial educational systems is evidenced by the following interesting description of the horse by a Bombay student:

"The horse is a very noble quadruped, but when he is angry he will not do so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle and sadly the driver places his foot on the stirrup, and divides his lower limbs across the saddle, and drives his animal to the meadow. He has long mouth, and his head is attached to the trunk by a long protuberance called the neck. He has four legs; two are in the front side and two are afterwards. These are the weapons on which he runs, and also defends himself by extending toward his foe in a parallel direction toward his foe, but this he does only when in a vexatious mood. His food is generally grasses and grains. He is also useful to take on his back a man or woman as well as some cargo. He has power to run as fast as he could. He has got to sleep at night time, and always standing awake. Also there are horses of short sizes. They do the same as the others are generally doing. There is no animal like the horse; no sooner they see their guardian or master they always cry for food, but if it is always at the morning time. They have got tail, but not so long as the cow and other such like similar animals."

SOME AFTER THOUGHTS.

District Attorney Jerome, of New York, says he is a man of peace. He is setting up a pretty good fight, though, on the New York grifters.

Scientists are debating how long a man can live under certain conditions after his neck has been broken. Among the politicians there are a good many who never have been dead ones for some time.

In deciding a divorce suit, a Cincinnati judge has stated that "a man is entitled to a divorce on the ground that when he gets home, the evidence shows that the man got a great many hot boots upon his return home, but not of the kind that he could eat."

"Why would you not get married in August?" asks Nicola Gruber, writing recently of summer weddings. "There is no danger of a cold, and it is due to a disinclination to violate the law against bigamy."

Prices in Nebraska and Missouri are quite low. A Nebraska man claims to have killed six anti-trust bills in the state legislature for $5,000. There is no anti-trust law in Missouri. $1,000 a piece—does that mean $5,000?

A Hawaiian woman bore seven children at once. Photograph has been forwarded to the White House.

There are a great many tall bank clerks who are so short at the banks that they have had to go around on health trips.

A London scientist has called the yellow fever authorities that he was sending good for mosquitoes. What is wanted is something extremely effective will make them very sick at the moment.

At what time shall I retire from my position? I am a mobile dog—defending him.

"Non possumus" simply means "nothing doing."

Chairman Shorts says they "are work." The bids have been opened, however, for dredges and steam shovels.

Preparations for Big State Fair Complete—Splendid Grounds—Temporary Buildings Erected.

September 18-23! For the past several months these dates have been impressed upon the people of Kentucky in every possible way. They have been posted on bill boards, they have gone out on letter heads, they have appeared in innumerable newspaper advertisements and reading notices. They are the dates on which the Big Kentucky State Fair, the largest and most pretentious exhibition of the kind ever attempted in the South, will be held.

Third State Fair. This is not Kentucky's first State Fair. There have been two others. One was in Louisville in 1902 and the other at Owensboro in 1903. The first was a moderate success; the second, from a financial standpoint, was a disastrous failure. But from a consideration of the class of exhibits and of their advantage to the State, both must be counted beneficial. This year's fair will be held at Lexington. That fact alone is enough to arouse the enthusiasm of the people of Kentucky and to guarantee its success. For Lexington is the center of the State's live stock and agricultural interests. Around her are grouped the most important lot of stock farms in America. She is the market of America for thoroughbreds, for trotters, saddle and carriage horses. From her bluegrass pastures go forth the export cattle which furnish Christmas beef to England's most favored lords. Her sheep are served as choice viands to royalty in many countries of Europe.

Lexington Ideal Location. Lexington is a great place for fairs. She has a way of giving better fairs than any other city in the State could ever give and she invariably makes a success of them. It is any wonder, then, that the State Fair, located at Lexington, with $15,000 appropriated by the State and a guarantee fund of $12,000 put up by our citizens to offer financial backing, with $25,000 to be given away in premium money—is it any wonder that under these circumstances the coming State Fair should arouse marked and widespread enthusiasm? Indeed, the wonder would be were there not such enthusiasm. For there is every good reason. Under a management that can not be excelled, with an enthusiastic Board of Control backing up an efficient and popular secretary, with men in charge of its various departments who have intimate knowledge of the detail work necessary to secure the best possible exhibits, the success of the fair is beyond doubt assured.

ANOTHER WONDERFUL CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment. I continued with the Soap and Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. The Alfalfa and Corn Special.

Arrangements have been perfected for running a special train through Kentucky, to be known as the "Kentucky Alfalfa and Corn Special," by the State Department of Agriculture. The train will leave Louisville at 8:15 o'clock September 25 and the trip will end in Louisville on October 4. The special will run over the lines of the Henderson Route, Illinois Central and Louisville and Nashville. President Attila Cox, of the Henderson Route, has tendered his private car to be used for the trip. Among those on board will be Hubert Veerland, State Commissioner of Agriculture.

The train will bear streams on its sides calling attention to the Alfalfa and Corn Special. Stops of thirty minutes will be made at each point on the itinerary, which will be announced later. At each place where the train stops lectures will be delivered on the culture and growth of alfalfa and corn. Ten thousand booklets will be distributed on the trip. These booklets will contain information on the cultivation of the two cereals.

On the baggage car will be specimens of alfalfa and corn. Farmers will also be given the opportunity to see demonstrations of alfalfa grown in Kentucky.

Alfalfa growing in Kentucky is comparatively a new departure among the farmers. Since its introduction it has become very popular as stock food. It is prolific in its growth and alfalfa of Kentucky is well adapted to its raising.

Later—the itinerary of the alfalfa and corn special train, as regards Breckenridge county, is as follows:

Leave Henderson	4:54 p.m.
Arrive Cloverport	5:15 p.m.
Leave Cloverport	5:45 a.m.
Arrive Stephensport	8:30 a.m.
Leave Stephensport	8:49 a.m.
Arrive Irvington	9:23 a.m.
Leave Irvington	10:22 a.m.
Arrive West Point	11:27 a.m.

Pe-ru-na Brought Health and Happiness.

Miss Nellie Smith, late of Manchester, Eng., writes from St. Prince Arthur St., Montreal, Can., as follows:

"Pe-ru-na has made a wonderful change in my life. It has brought me health and happiness."

"Since my seventeenth year I have had female complaint and irregularities. My general health has been poor. I was in my back and lower limbs, my eyes were dim, and I became morose and unreasonable."

"I then sought the advice of our family physician, who prescribed for me, but I grew no better."

"I then read of Pe-ru-na and procured a bottle. After one bottle was worth more than all the doctor's medicine I had taken previously."

"I cannot express my gratitude. Pe-ru-na has been a great blessing to me."—Nellie Smith.

Miss Edna Moore, 40 Elm street, Buffalo, N. Y., Secretary East End Literary Association, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from systemic catarrh, was extremely nervous, could not sleep, faint, easily, was very irritable, had a confusion of the senses, and got up in the morning feeling more tired than when I went to bed."

"I was very wretched, but upon taking Pe-ru-na began to improve, and after using the medicine four months, I felt like a new woman and was completely cured."—Edna Moore.

The principal remedy which Dr. Hartman relies upon in curing catarrhal diseases of women is Pe-ru-na. It has cured thousands of women sufferers and Pe-ru-na a household necessity.

MISS Angelina Grotten, 205 St. Urbain street, Montreal, Can., writes: "Having heard Pe-ru-na praised so highly induced me to try it for my cold, and pains in the groin, from which I had been suffering for months. It took nearly three bottles to cure me, but I consider that was but a short time, as I have often taken doctors' prescriptions for months before I got relief."—Angelina Grotten.

As is well known, Dr. Hartman is the President of the Hartman Sanitarium, an institution which has a department devoted to the treatment of female diseases.

It is thus brought to see thousands of such cases every year, the most of whom return to their homes to be treated by their correspondents.
